developed acute weakness again today and after continued liquidation throughout the session closed active and weak at about the lowest for the day, This represented also the lowest of the year for a number of prominent stocks and near the lowest for a much larger number. Union Pacific, Atchison, Erie, Texas and Pacific, Wabash preferred, Rock Island preferred, Consolidated Gas, Republic Steel preferred and the Virginia-Carolina Chemical stocks were among those which sold today lower that before this year. United States Steel sold at 21, which is the lowest price on record. There was an insignificant rally in the final hour of the market, but the selling was renewed at the last. It was evident that the process of pelling out collateral in loans was re-sumed on a considerable scale. The source of the selling took on the mysterious character of the recent period of liquidation which it was hoped had been completed for the present. A number of stocks broke sharply this morning on account of special news developments and the renewal of the general declining tendency seemed to prompt the liquidation as much as any other factor. Fears were also expressed that the executive change in the corporation would give rise to changes of policy possibly involving a suspension of dividends on the common stock. The decline of 7 points in Virginia-Prolina Chemical, and of 19 points in the preferred was the occasion of some uncasiness. Another supposed factor was derived from the published reports of a serious breakdown in the health of an operator who has taken a very prominent part in some of the great market affairs of the last few years. It was not supposed, however, that the weakness of the market was due entirely to any special causes. the general banking situation being considered sufficient to explain the liquidation. The Wall Street community has not relinquished its study of the loan position of banks which was emphascized by the unexpected increase in loans shown by last Saturday's bank statement. The fact that large increases in failures in the general commercial and industrial lines reported by commercial agencies gave point to the depressing in fluences of the compilation.
